Megan Curren Phil Dupasquier	Yes.	Yes. "I have been advocating for the end of all aboverent forout of "entertainment" for years. I am not clear on the Obtivitie's role in this regard, but an open to learning and advocating both personally and as a municipality if possible."	Yes. "Again, I'm not sure what note Municipal Government play for could play, but an open to tearning and supporting policies where possible. Personally, I will continue advocary for ending animal cruelty."	Yes. Let's expand. "Meatles Monday's and pathree with Abools and employers to broaden awareness and reach. I'm not sure if bits would be within my power phabib but I'd bove to see Virtuous Ple, Umaluma and more vegan options in The District."	Yes "100% yes. See previous answer."	T'm not sure how this can be done in all rentals (such as sure), but it this purpose- built rental buildings should allow petc. I'm open to learning more about the role Municipal government can take, often times housing oplicy is at a Powincial level. I support tenants having Pets, I Just don't want to promise something I can't deliver on. Open to learning more?"	Yes. The avegan, environmentalist, conservationist, animin-typhs subvecte. I want to better understand the District's policies, enforcements, set and an understand the distribution of the distribu- shefter is closing son and need to learn more about the DW role in animal welfare, animal adoption, etc."

Lisa Muri Sameer Parekh Greg Robins	Yes. "I also do not agree with the notion that capitvity "preserves" a species."	Yes. "I have never supported animal-based entertainment and feel is nothing less than abues. Cirgue du Sollei sets a perfect exampte of how to reinvent animal-based entertainment."	Yes. "We owned Sprout Organic Market for 10 years until this summer. We only sold grass finished beef from Engine Valley Beef, directly from the rancher, John B Joyce Holmes, and only sold chicken from Brad Red and we personally inspected the chicken fam to be assured of the chicken fam to be assured of the chicken before core values in place of profits."	Yes. "While we owned Sprost Market, we supported plant-based, naturally derived products for the most part. We can do much more to support a plant-based diet."	Yes. "It does us all good – everyone and the planet – to reduce meat consumption. Perhaps more education for residents and upport for reliains: who get on board with a pro-meatless Monday would improve the uptake of the movement."	Yes. "We are lifelong pet owners and now own a wonderful Giant Schnoodle. We are landbrotk with a property in Kelowna and our tenants have a dog. We velocimed that pet with under the collar scratches and behind-the-ear rubs."	Yes. "I will commit to study this in more detail if detected and find ways to collaborate with interested parties to craft a more meaningful bylow."

	Yes. T have personally modified my nurkino to be more plant-based and humane and so would absolutely be motivated to develop initiatives to provide more plant-based food options to the students of North Vancoures Foodo District: Education in early years regarding healthier choices for both the initidudual, animals and the environment is key to more conscious consumers moving in to the future."	Yes. Yaka a datocate for the humane treatment of animisk and the shift of our mindsets around nutrition and alternative notices, I would assolutely be in favour of implementing Meatless Mondays in schools across North Vancouver."	Yes. T believe the disacction of animals in our education system is an obsolved coption but I understand that I is still practiced. I personally wish had the option to refrain from disaccting animals during my time is school and so would definitely support the implementation of a student choice policy in North Vancouver School District."
